I joined TNT because I have always wanted to complete a marathon. When I saw what Team in Training is about and what it accomplishes, it was then that I decided that I wanted to be a part of something bigger than myself, I run with Team in Training for every one of my family members and friends that have had to fight for their life because of cancer, and for those that did not make it. Team in Training is an amazing group, and have encouraged and motivated me every step of the way. Without their guidance and training I do not know how I would have completed my first half marathon. I felt prepared and confident to run with my Team in Training family, and I am proud to wear my purple on the course.
